

IDEA 1:

a lot of background knowledge in this area due to the three years of work experience in Student Recruitment and University Admissions a website that compiles resources to help students with their university application process a lot of different and confusing websites out there for students to find themselves, use this website to compile all the necessary information tip & tricks for applications in terms of 'studytube', as well as information to help students ease into their university experience catered towards UK but also international students an abundance of videos on youtube about similar topics, but not much in terms of websites

STUDY WEBSITE FOR STUDENTS

IDEA 2:

LANGUAGE LEARNING WEBSITE

a website to document the journey of learning leanguage and to encourage others by sharing easily accessible resources

I will try out resources, such as workbooks, online classes and apps myself and review them it will feature different language with different levels, such as French (7 years of learning), Korean (1 year of learning) and Spanish (complete beginner) to also share resources to learn the language I am fluent in: German and English aimed at everyone who wants to learn a new language but doesn't know where to start there is website and articles online that can be helpful, but they either only cover one language or are very formal
